

HIRETALENT

In light of the current social unrest, many leaders and companies are looking for ways to help advance equity in their workplaces, but may not know where to start exactly. One quick and simple thing you can do is to shed light on the current state of diversity & inclusion in contingent workforce programs by completing a 14-minute survey. This information will be vital in helping to map out where we need to go.

HireTalent and Consciously Unbiased are proud to partner with SIA to research and better understand the best practices and future direction of diversity and inclusion efforts in contingent workforce programs.

We want to hear what you are doing—or planning on doing—to help the whole industry make an impact on society for the better: Participate in a brief, confidential survey by clicking the button below, and all participants in the survey will receive a copy of the final report.

This research project is sponsored by HireTalent and Consciously Unbiased in association with Beeline and TAPFIN.*

Take The Survey

Copyright © 2020 Consciously Unbiased, All rights reserved.

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

