

HIRETALENT

The time is now. Companies of all sizes and industries are looking to make significant improvements in their diversity and inclusion efforts. How will you lead the charge to promote diversity and inclusion at your company?

Join Ashish Kaushal, CEO of HireTalent and founder of Consciously Unbiased, and SIA President Barry Asin, on Thursday November 12th at 9am PT/12pm ET for an important conversation on lessons learned, tested strategies and how to do the right thing when it comes to diversity and inclusion. The reward is well worth it – not only in financial outcomes but also in expanded innovation, better talent attraction, retention and productivity.

- Have you experienced a lack of information from staffing partners regarding candidate diversity?
- Does your organization focus on supplier ownership diversity, rather than talent pool diversity?
- Does your contingent workforce provide “opt in” data necessary to measure program results?

This session will cover key findings from a soon to be released, groundbreaking research report, The Future of Diversity & Inclusion in the Contingent Workforce from HireTalent & Consciously Unbiased, powered by SIA. Gain critical insights on how you and your organization can truly meet the moment and be at the forefront to improve diversity and inclusion now and in the future.
